Harlingen Welcomes Frontier Airlines

Harlingen, Texas—Low-cost carrier, Frontier Airlines today announced the addition of new low-fare, non-stop flights from Harlingen’s Valley International Airport beginning this November.

Frontier will offer direct flights to Chicago-O’Hare and Denver International Airport with numerous connecting possibilities. To celebrate the new flights, Frontier is offering a special introductory, one-way fare of $49.

Mayor Chris Boswell welcomed the airline with open arms. “I am sure everyone is excited to be able to fly non-stop to Denver and the connecting options it offers to reach additional markets. Non-stop service to Chicago, like Denver, will greatly benefit our business community, our Winter Texan friends, as well as, those visiting family and friends.”

Based in Denver, Frontier serves more than 80 cities, in the United States, Mexico, and the Dominican Republic. Harlingen is now the sixth City in Texas and the only City in the Rio Grande Valley where the airline operates from.

Frontier joins Southwest, United, Delta, and Sun Country Airlines at Valley International Airport. It will offer flights on Wednesday and Saturday on an Airbus A320.
